Indeed the European Community's original legal system was intentionally designed to have very limited monitoring and enforcement capabilities. The European Court of Justice transformed the original system through bold and controversial legal decisions declaring the direct effect and supremacy of European law over national law.

In a series of important rulings the European Court of Justice (ECJ) has developed the doctrine of supremacy of European Union (EU) over national law. According to the European Community law, where there is conflict between European law and the law of Member States, European law highly prevails. ' This has been evident since the case Van Gend en Loos in 1963 where the ECJ clearly stated that ' the Community constitutes a new legal order in international law, for whose benefit the States ...
