Transportation Investments - Highway and Transit. This chapter explores the relationship between transportation and land use. It examines the theoretical basis for expecting transportation to influence land use, and it determines the extent to which such impact can be documented. It should be noted that the primary focus of this chapter is the impact of transportation on land use, not the impact of land use on travel or transportation.

In automobile-dependent cities, 35 to 50% of land-use footprint is accounted for by roads and parking lots. Within a parking lot, about 40% of the surface is devoted to parking vehicles, while

Evaluating Transportation Land Use Impacts

In fact, research dating back at least to the 1950s has found over
