Youth Aflame

Youth Aflame exists to see a generation of young people be the light of the world. It is a gathering for 7th grade through high school students to come together to worship the name of Jesus. Through preaching, teaching, music and maybe even some friendly competition here and there, your students will have fun serving the one true God.

One of several WW II-era "juvenile delinquent" dramas, Youth Aflame was filmed two years before its 1945 release, and frankly looks much older. It's the old saw about two sisters, one good, one bad. The nice sister (Kay Morley) tries to steer the nasty one (Joy Reece) towards the straight and narrow path, but it's no use. Only when it's too late does the erring sister learn the horrible price ...

Youth Aflame! is the result of a seven-year spiritual attempt to provide for the young a Biblical practical manual that would be useful to help them in many different areas they will face in life. First released in 1967 it rapidly became the single best teaching tool during the Jesus Movement for new Christians to draw from God's book and His heart what it means to follow Christ.

With the peer pressure our youth face in the world today, we foster new friendships through this avenue, encouraging youngsters to be bonded and knitted with a heart for the Lord. One of the distinguishing features of The Youth Aflame is its vibrancy, which draws many of the young through its portals.
